Advertising space is available in upcoming issues of Antiphon.

Antiphon is the official online publication of the Arizona American Choral Directors Association (AzACDA). An excellent source for members to share notices of choral events in our state community, Antiphon contains articles and resources regarding repertoire, choral pedagogy, rehearsal techniques, and networking within the choral profession. Antiphon is distributed through ISSUU (<http://issuu.com/azacda>), a web publishing service that provides the reader with the flexibility to view the publication on electronic devices such as tablets, e-Readers, smart phones, and personal computers, and the ability to share items via email and social media. It is published three times each academic year with issues in the fall, winter, and spring. You can view the current issue as well as our entire archive of past editions at: <http://www.azacda.org/antiphon>.

Antiphon is delivered to over 500 choral musicians that are composed of professional and student conductors at the elementary, middle, high school, and collegiate levels as well as in the church and community. AzACDA's goal is to fulfill the purposes of the National ACDA organization (<http://www.acda.org>) at the more immediate state level.

For more information on Antiphon's audience or readership statistics, please contact the editor at antiphon@azacda.org. To place an advertisement in an upcoming issue of Antiphon, please see the advertising reservation form below. Thank you for your consideration.
